

/spank/
/pelt/swing/measure/
/sound/trumpet/hold up/hold fast/
/hug/

-

Once in a blue moon, a serious spanking match can turn all funny on you, with laughter breaking all suspense, pelting the both of you against each other, pillows swinging above your heads, in an artificially manufactured storming rage.

Take careful measure of the situation and sound a trumpet, if you have one handy. It is important to hold up to such challenges; to hold fast to the policies that shaped a lifetime of play. Apply a hug as a containment measure, and slowly fold your partner back onto the safety of your knees. Listen for a sigh of relief and continue.