Bare hand spanking can be used to warm up the butt cheeks before a more harsher strapping. In the same manner, gradual stripping of the receiver of clothes can help to avoid bruising and slashing of the skin. Frankly, there are no shortcuts here, so if you are not ready for the work, don't even start.

If you do carry through, you might be able to offer the receiver an experience beyond any initial expectation. There is no special protocol to adhere to. Just keep communication flowing while going deeper. Ending with a hug would be a nice touch, although some prefer to be left to their own devices after such a journey. Trust and release.
